

Is Your Organisation Ready for Meaningful Partnership?

A short, honest self-assessment. No score to game, just a clearer picture.

Partnership is a capability, not an event. This is a quick read on where your organisation actually sits. Mark each statement as in place, in progress, or not yet. The pattern across your answers matters more than any single one.

Consumers are involved before decisions are made, not after.

☐ IN PLACE☐ IN PROGRESS☐ NOT YET

Lived experience is present in governance, not only in projects.

☐ IN PLACE☐ IN PROGRESS☐ NOT YET

We pay consumers as a matter of course, with a clear rate.

☐ IN PLACE☐ IN PROGRESS☐ NOT YET

People who take part hear back what changed.

☐ IN PLACE☐ IN PROGRESS☐ NOT YET

Engagement is someone's job, not everyone's afterthought.

☐ IN PLACE☐ IN PROGRESS☐ NOT YET

We can name a decision that consumer input has changed.

☐ IN PLACE☐ IN PROGRESS☐ NOT YET

We invite the affected, and we notice who is missing.

☐ IN PLACE☐ IN PROGRESS☐ NOT YET

Staff have the skills and the time to engage well.

How to read your answers

Mostly in place: you have the foundations. The work now is consistency and depth, not starting over.

Mostly in progress: the intent is there, but partnership is not yet how you work. Pick the two weakest statements and start there.

Mostly not yet: begin with governance and remuneration. They change the incentives everything else runs on.
